Shocking spike in number of sexual offences

LATEST FIGURES: Haverhill police station

THERE has been a spike in the number of serious sexual offences recorded by police in Haverhill.

Between April and May 2017, the number of recorded offences shot up from 10 to 21, according to figures published by the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team.

Since the start of the year, there has been a general increase in reports of serious sexual offences in the area: five in January, three in February, 13 in March; 10 in April and 21 in May.

A Suffolk Police spokesperson said: "The figures regarding increases in sexual offences for Haverhill are echoed at both a local and a national level.

RACHAEL

"These rises have been attributed to increased reporting of these types of offences and reflect an increase in confidence that victims and their families have in coming forward and reporting what has happened to them.

"Our aim is to prevent harm to those being abused, to safeguard vulnerable people and to bring offenders to justice.

"If a victim of abuse contacts us and wishes to discuss an incident that has happened to them, we will always conduct a thorough investigation and provide appropriate advice and support throughout the process."

Police were unable to provide a breakdown of which wards these offences had been reported in.

The Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team cover Cavendish, Chedburgh, Clare, Haverhill East, Haverhill North, Haverhill South, Haverhill West, Hundon, Kedington, Wickambrook and Withersfield.

MOST CASES OF VIOLENCE: Jubilee Walk

Violent crime against people has doubled

VIOLENT crime which causes injuries has more than doubled in Haverhill.

Figures obtained by the News under a Freedom of Information (FOI) request revealed that "violence with injury" crimes went up from 108 in the year 2015/16 to 265 in 2016-17.

The total number of violent injury crimes now stands at 373 over the last two years.

Jubilee Walk, in Haverhill, had the most cases of violence with injury recorded with 19 over two years.

High Street was second on the list, with 15 since 2015, and Queen Street came in at number three, with 14 violence with injury crimes recorded over the two years.

Acting Inspector Matt Paisley said: "We have seen significant changes in the way some types of crimes are recorded and categorised following changes in legislation and National Crime Recording Standards, which are likely to have impacted on these figures."

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc9CN

We are now far more robust in what we record and how we record it.

"The increase does not necessarily mean more crime is happening, rather there is a greater consistency when recording crime and victims recognising what constitutes an offence and feeling more able to come forward."

Inspector Paisley added: "However, we do review patterns of crime reported to us to identify hotspot areas and conduct regular patrols to ensure we maintain a consistent police presence, including at late night venues, to detect and deter offences."

"We also recognise that some of those who commit crime are vulnerable so, as well as enforcement activity, we work with partner agencies to offer specialist support services."

TRANSPORT

Road closed to correct markings

A ROAD in Haverhill was shut overnight to fix road markings that were put in the wrong place.

The give way lines at the mini-roundabout in Sturmer Road were put in place in July, but are too far back meaning that some drivers have limited visibility.

A spokesperson from Suffolk County Council said: "Where the give way lines have been is too far back from the junction. So if you stopped there they could slightly affect visibility into the mini-roundabout."

"We were moving the give way lines closer to the junction. The lines have been like this for just shy of a month."

Sturmer Road was closed from 7pm last night and was due to reopen at 5am today for the correct markings to be placed. The northern end of Bumpstead Road was also due to be closed.

FIRE

High Street shut as smoke pours from diner in lunchtime drama

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc9CN

HAVERHILL. High Street was shut as smoke billowed out of the Route 66 American Diner after a fire on Tuesday morning.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue were called at 11.55am to a chip pan in the diner.

The flats above the restaurant were evacuated as a precaution.

Two engines were sent to attend the fire and smoke was still filling the restaurant for some time after the incident, and street prompting Suffolk Police to shut it while the incident was ongoing.

Firefighters worked to ventilate the property to disperse the smoke.

Hot oil was decanted and made safe. Foam and three fire blankets were used.

The police assisted with some traffic management outside the diner.

A 19-year-old with minor burns was sent to hospital before services arrived.

The diner remained closed on Tuesday evening.

FAMILY

HAPPY FAMILY: Luke, Daisy and Robyn Darvill

Tiny surprise's battle to survive

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc9CN

FINDING herself in excruciating pain, Robyn Darvill went straight to her doctor thinking she had appendicitis.

But she found herself pregnant and in labour.

Robyn and her partner Luke went straight to hospital and welcomed their perfect and healthy baby girl, Daisy Pearl.

But just two weeks after the couple were coming to terms with their surprise addition to the family, Daisy was struggling to breathe and was rushed to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

She was diagnosed with three holes in her heart and needed immediate lifesaving open heart surgery if she was going to survive.

"In a matter of weeks, our lives had changed," said Luke Darvill, 25, from Haverhill. "We had no idea that Daisy was on the horizon and all of a sudden Robyn was not only pregnant, but giving birth to our baby."

"We had been at home for two weeks before Daisy became seriously unwell."

"We were told her heart wasn't working properly – it was terrifying to think that something we loved so much could be taken away from us. We didn't know how long she would be in hospital for, and I had no idea about where we would stay while she underwent this major treatment."

The young parents faced the heart-wrenching choice of leaving their newborn in hospital without them or forking out for accommodation.

Luckily, they were saved thanks to help from the Sick Children's Trust, who made sure they were able to stay by Daisy's side.

Luke said: "Thankfully, we were told about the Trust and the free 'Home from Home' accommodation the charity offers."

"We were so relieved to be given a set of keys and our own room. To know we had somewhere to stay, completely free of charge, right next to our baby was such a comfort when it felt like our world was falling apart."

"For two months, we were supported by the charity's Acorn House. It was amazing – Daisy never had to be without one of us by her side."

Two months after her admission to Addenbrooke's, Daisy became so ill that a decision was made to transfer her to Great Ormond Street Hospital in London.

BUBBLY: Daisy Darvill

Once more, Luke and Robyn were terrified of being separated from their miracle baby.

Luke said: "We were so scared we were going to be separated from our baby as her little body was put through open heart surgery."

Fortunately, again, the Sick Children's Trust saved the family from being split up and accommodation was found at Guilford Street House in London.

Robyn said: "Guilford Street House was just like Acorn House, where we had become so comfortable. When we first arrived in London we were exhausted with worry. Daisy was so very poorly and it was breaking our hearts to see her fighting for her life."

To say 'thank-you' for giving the family a 'home from home', Luke is taking on the Bedford Half Marathon on September 2 to raise funds for The Sick Children's Trust.

Robyn said: "To say thank-you on behalf of our family, Luke really wanted to do a sponsored challenge this year. When we saw that the Bedford Half was partially in aid of The Sick Children's Trust it was the perfect fit."

Daisy who made her unexpected entrance in 2015, is now a bouncing toddler and her visits to Addenbrooke's are becoming less frequent.

Praise for Ely hospital

WE would like to praise the Princess of Wales Hospital for the professional and efficient experience we had recently.

After a friendly porter pointed us in the right direction, we were greeted politely and taken straight to the ward, where there was a calm and organised atmosphere. Everyone was so friendly and helpful, escorting us back to the car with a wheelchair, keeping us informed, and checking up the next day.

After a lot of frustration experienced at Addenbrooke's, it was as pleasant an experience as such a visit could be and, in our opinion, the proposed expansion of facilities there can't come quickly enough.

Look at cause of pollution

IT has been said that one or two streets in Cambridge are more polluted than those of New York.

Also, we have now been told that diesel is not the fuel that we thought it was with regard to being environmentally friendly.

Some solutions have been put forward as to how to alleviate this problem, such as encouraging people to take the bus and/or cycling everywhere.

However, there is some mileage (pardon the pun), in looking at the vehicles themselves.

For example, you will often see coach drivers standing by their vehicles while the engine is still running. Why? When tackled about this, they will reply "to keep the heating going or the air con" etc.

Why this is necessary with an empty coach or bus is a mystery. It is actually illegal to keep an engine running in a vehicle whilst the driver is not in that vehicle's driving seat. This should be extended to make it illegal to run an engine whilst a vehicle is stationary for any length of time. They already do this in Switzerland, for example, where the buses even cut out their engines at traffic lights.

Of course, if electric cars become popular, this will contribute to pollution-free motoring.

However, this brings the question of the generating of the electricity to power those cars and what pollution that may bring in itself. But that is another debate.

The price of getting a bus

MY daughter has just moved back to Cambridge with her husband and family.

She could hardly believe that the bus fare into Cambridge from the Trumpington petrol station stop is £4.30 return.

SUMMER: A wet duckling in Ely caught the eye of Paul Loveday

She says that this would easily pay for parking with the benefits of going door to door.

Weirdly, the ride from the park and ride stop further out is £3 but that would involve an extra 10-15 minute walk with shopping to carry and two children.

In France she can take an 11-mile bus journey for 1.5 Euros (£1.40) – all journeys are that price. This does seem impossible to understand when we are surely trying to keep traffic out of the city.

Promise on power cap

THIS is what Theresa May said

of her energy price-cap pledge:

"Sometimes people say to me that doing something like that doesn't sound very Conservative."

My response to that is when it comes to supporting working people, what matters is not an ideology, what matters is doing what you believe to be right.

And I think something like that could make a real difference to people and a real difference to people's lives.

Now British Gas has announced that it is to raise electricity prices by 12.5 per cent.

I look forward to the outrage about this and her other broken promises since June 8.

I suspect the silence will be deafening.

Car stowaway makes cat-alytic converter purr

CHRIS ELLIOTT

Chief Reporter
@ChrisElliottCN

WORKERS at a Cambridge garage were amazed when they opened the bonnet of a car – and found a little black cat purring inside the engine space.

The furry pet had crawled inside the cavity and had been driven to Marshall Ford in Newmarket Road, where the car was being dropped off for repairs.

It survived the journey unharmed, and was plucked to safety and put in a cardboard box by a technician.

The cat's owner had no idea the animal was inside the engine when she set off to deliver the car.

Marshall Ford manager Dominic Meacham said: "The owner had been suffering from poor starting problems with her car, so she booked it in for us to look at, and when our staff opened the bonnet, there was the little cat.

"It's a fair journey from Haverhill, about 15 miles, but thankfully it had survived all right.

"We got in touch with the owner straight away, and looked after the cat until she came in and picked it up, so all's well that ended well."

MISSING AIRMAN

Incinerator bones 'do not belong to Corrie' – dad

DOUBTS: Corrie McKeague's father Martin does not believe bones found at an incineration site are those of his son

SAMAR MAGUIRE

@SamarMaguireCN

THE father of missing airman Corrie McKeague says he does not believe bones found at an incineration plant are the remains of his son.

Police are currently examining waste found at the plant at Great Blakenham, Suffolk – which includes bone fragments – to see if it could be connected to the 23-year-old who went missing last September.

A search of a landfill site in Milton was called off last month after officers spent 20 weeks sifting through 6,500 tonnes of waste.

They said the search would move on to an incinerator despite believing Corrie's remains were somewhere on the landfill site.

But Martin McKeague said he thinks the best hope of finding his son is to continue searching the Milton site and that he doesn't believe the fragments are anything to do with Corrie.

He said: "They have found some bones, which was expected, and which could be animal bones. We're just going to have to wait and see until they're tested.

"Deep down I don't think it's Corrie.

"We remain focused on the facts, and those facts suggest we are looking in the right places.

"The police will let us know in due course about their findings from the incinerator facility, and we await the results of the review of the landfill site search."

On Tuesday, police issued a statement about the find which read: "Police searching incinerated waste at the Great Blakenham energy-from-waste facility have recovered some material that requires further examination in order to establish whether it is in any way connected to the Corrie McKeague missing person enquiry.

"At this stage it cannot be confirmed whether or not this material is in any way linked to Corrie and so it will be subject to specialist examination and forensic analysis in the coming weeks.

"Police expected that it would be necessary to take items recovered from the search away from the site in order to examine them more carefully.

"Corrie's family have been kept updated about the search.

"The search of the incinerated waste is now complete."

Police called off the search at Milton despite revealing they knew Corrie regularly climbed into bins to go to sleep after a night out.

It is feared he fell asleep in an industrial bin following a night out with friends in Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, on September 24 last year.

CCTV footage from that evening shows the airman entering a bin loading bay but never walking out.

It is thought he had been in a rubbish bin that was emptied into a lorry and taken to a landfill site at Milton.

An independent review is under way into Suffolk Police's handling of Corrie's disappearance.

Anyone with information about Corrie's disappearance should call the incident room at Suffolk Police on (01473) 782019.

A Closer Look at . . .

INDEPENDENT BUSINESSES – HAVERHILLS HIDDEN GEMS

Buying local isn't just about supporting businesses near you and helping to boost the local economy—it's also about getting the finest products around.

If you're shopping for food, for example, fresh produce from local farmers always tastes significantly better than those shipped halfway across the country and on to supermarket shelves. If you're interested in quality, buying local is a no brainer.

Here in Haverhill, supporting local butchers, bakers and greengrocers instead of taking a trip to the Tesco Superstore ensures that you will be tucking in to meals that have had a significantly shorter "field to fork" journey.

As well as ensuring a support for local farmers, this food is also going to be better for you – the less packaging it contains, the more nutrients will be inside. As well as tasting good, you'll be left feeling good by giving the local economy a helping hand.

Previous research on spending showed that for every pound spent at a small or medium sized business, 63p of it stayed within the local economy.

If you shop at a large business, only 40p stays in the local area which doesn't help to build and maintain a thriving network of local businesses. If this wasn't enough, supporting brand new businesses helps foster brand new talent – the entrepreneurs starting out today could grow to become some of the country's most successful business owners of tomorrow.

Supporting local businesses helps build a strong local community – shop local and secure Haverhill's future growth.

Kindness of strangers helps fire victim rebuild her life

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc9CN

A WOMAN who had to be pulled away from her burning home just before Christmas is finally starting to rebuild her life.

Jayne Hornsey from Haverhill came out of the house in a dressing gown and no shoes, and had to be dragged from her home after telling a neighbour that one of her cats was trapped inside the burning building.

She was left homeless after the devastating house fire on December 4, and was sleeping in her garden shed because she refused to leave her cats behind.

Now, thanks to the kindness of strangers, a Haverhill charity, a local housing authority – Havebury Housing – and local business, she is rebuilding her life and home.

Ann Allen, operations manager at Reach, said: "On the Friday before Christmas Havebury contacted us about Jayne; she had been offered temporary accommodation in a Travelodge but would not go because she could not leave her cats behind and was sleeping in the garden shed.

"Therefore, Havebury Housing pulled out all the stops to provide a bedsit flat, gas and electric but there wasn't any furniture, what could we do to help?

"Within a couple of hours we had put together a Z-bed, a microwave, a fridge and Starter Pack items (bedding, towels, cutlery, crockery etc), a food box, Christmas hamper, toiletries, a kettle and some cat food and dishes – and all were delivered that afternoon."

A justgiving page was also set up by the community to help Jayne.

Now, eight months later, electrical giant Hughes has given Jayne a free cooker – a massive help for Jayne, who has only had a microwave since December – as she looks to move back to her home in Castle Walk.

Ann added: "We have been amazed at this very kind gesture of a new cooker from Hughes Electrical for Jayne."

"Having been involved with providing this lady with replacement household items after the distressing fire a few months ago, it's just lovely to see her getting a home back together and we wish her all the very best for the future."

Sam Potter, manager of Hughes' Haverhill branch in the Chauntry Centre, said: "As an established business in the town we like to see ourselves as at the heart of the community.

"So, when we heard about the terrible ordeal Jayne had been through we were only too pleased to help her and also recognise the very valuable work Ann and the team at Reach Community Projects do for the local community."

Jayne said: "I am so grateful, I can't thank you enough for all your help."

CAMBRIDGE ROCK FESTIVAL

The show goes on

ANNA SAVVA
@AnnaSavaCN

MUSIC lovers have been rocking out at this year's Cambridge Rock Festival after it was saved by EuroMillions winner Adrian Bayford.

This year's festival at Horseheath Lodge near Linton was saved by one of Britain's biggest-ever lottery winners after he offered his sprawling £6 million estate when the usual venue pulled out.

Adrian Bayford, 46, was running a tiny music shop when he landed the £148 million jackpot with wife Gillian in 2012.

According to reports, he has been strolling through the crowds with his family, wearing a Metallica T-shirt and clutching a Black Sabbath-style wig.

Ahead of the event he said: "When I found out the festival had been kicked off their old venue I had to help.

"I want people to enjoy themselves. There's not much going on in East Anglia. It makes me feel good to see so many people having fun.

"I have the land, so I'm in a fortunate position where I can help the festival carry on."

CRIME

BMW's targeted

A CAR was stolen and another was broken into on the same night.

Thieves first stole a grey BMW 318 from a house in Seymour Drive, Haverhill.

The theft is thought to have taken place between 8.30pm on July 25 and 5.30am on Wednesday July 26.

In the second incident a silver BMW was also targeted overnight between 8pm on July 25 and 7.55pm on July 26.

Thieves took a wallet from the car which was parked on a driveway in Cleves Road in Haverhill.

Police are reminding people of the following crime prevention advice:

- Do not leave anything on display in your car. Thieves can sometimes mistake items for valuables and the damage they can do to the car to get in can be costly.

- Take all your belongings with you when you leave the car.

RACHAEL
MC MENEMY
@rach_mc9CN

If you cannot, then lock them in the boot out of sight.

- CD players and stereos: remove them if you can, get them security marked and keep a note of serial numbers.

- Sat-navs: remove unit and holder from windscreen and wipe the residue circle from the screen. This could indicate to a thief you have hidden the unit in the car.

- Keep your keys safe.

- Fit security devices: electronic immobiliser, mechanical immobiliser, locking wheel nuts and a vehicle alarm.

Anyone who has knowledge of either incident or saw any suspicious activity should contact Suffolk Police on 101 quoting crime references 37/50982/17 for the first incident and 37/51011/17 for the second.

'Hope' is galvanized at Village College

A HAVERHILL company has strengthened its long-term partnership with a local secondary school – resulting in the creation of a memorial art piece.

Acrow Galvanizing has teamed up with Sawston Village College to galvanize the steelwork used to produce the commission "Hope", which has been installed permanently on the external wall of the school's premises to mark Holocaust Memorial Day.

The artwork was inspired by the Gillian Clarke poem, Birdsong, and depicts a bird taking flight. It was designed by students at the college, fabricated by artist Neil Jones, and galvanized by the team at Acrow to protect it from corrosion.

The commission was one of 12 awarded nationally by the Holocaust Memorial Day Trust for 2017.

Acrow's John Nicholson said: "Working with our local community is extremely rewarding, and we're always eager to share industry knowledge with potential future architects and designers studying at the school."

The Costa Brava... but not as you know it

EDWARD STEPHENS goes green in the unexplored countryside of north east Spain

T'S 7am, the temperature is just over 30°C degrees and the pale blue sky doesn't have a single cloud to deface it.

Yet this is day five of our seven-day holiday in Llafranc, an hour's drive from Girona, and every day has been just as hot.

My preconceived ideas of "Green Spain" from a wet week spent there 25 years ago, when it rained almost every day, have been unreservedly despatched.

I knew the region was lovely, with vast areas of woodland and unspoiled coastal paths, but they call it green Spain for a reason.

All that vegetation needs a lot of rain to keep it alive.

But, 25 years on, I regret not coming back here sooner.

This is the Costa Brava, and while there are cheap and cheerful parts of this costa, our home for the week in Llafranc is a complete opposite to the high-rise resorts further south where thousands of Brits first cut their teeth on Spanish holidays in the early sixties.

Llafranc and its sister coastal towns of Tamarit and Calella de Palafrugell (not to be confused with the more commercialised Calella near Barcelona) are low-key, upmarket resorts which remind me of refined coastal towns in the South of France.

Forget high-rise multi-storey in this region, Madrid keeps a tight rein on what's built here.

If you're looking for superb beaches, crystal-clear water, myriad excellent small restaurants and tasteful boutiques but an absence of discos and neon, this could be for you.

It is, without doubt, one of the prettiest, most unspoiled parts of Spain I have come across.

Llafranc itself is a small town with a beautiful white sandy beach, just a handful of shops and restaurants and a lot of second homes owned by the wealthy of Barcelona just two hours drive away.

A pathway along a spectacularly beautiful rugged coastline links it to the small resort and fishing village of Calella, just a 15 minute stroll away, where picturesque narrow streets show off a variety of small eateries and pretty shops.

Stay on the Cami de Ronda coastal path and you will cross numerous other small coves with just a few holidaymakers on the sand and between, children playing in the rock pools.

Don't expect to find too many Brits here, it's an area the Spanish like to keep to themselves.

Avoid late July and August and you will find Llafranc, Calella and Tamarit is Spain as it used to be, before mass tourism. You can amble along uncrowded promenades at all three and not hear any English spoken.

There are bars and restaurants but usually they are small family affairs which have been there for years.

The Hotel Llafranc, for example, right on the sea front, is a family business which started back in 1953 as a bar.

Now with 32 rooms, it has a history of catering for the stars of the silver screen as well as the great and good from the worlds of sport and the arts.

Take a look at the walls at the rear of the restaurant – it's run by Carles Bisbe, the son of one of the three brothers who started the business – and you'll find photographs of those who have passed through its doors.

There's Elizabeth Taylor, Sophia Loren, Kirk Douglas and Seve Ballesteros to name but a few. Other visitors have included Yul Brynner and Rock Hudson and over the bar there's a huge picture of Carles' uncle with Salvador Dali, a regular guest in his day.

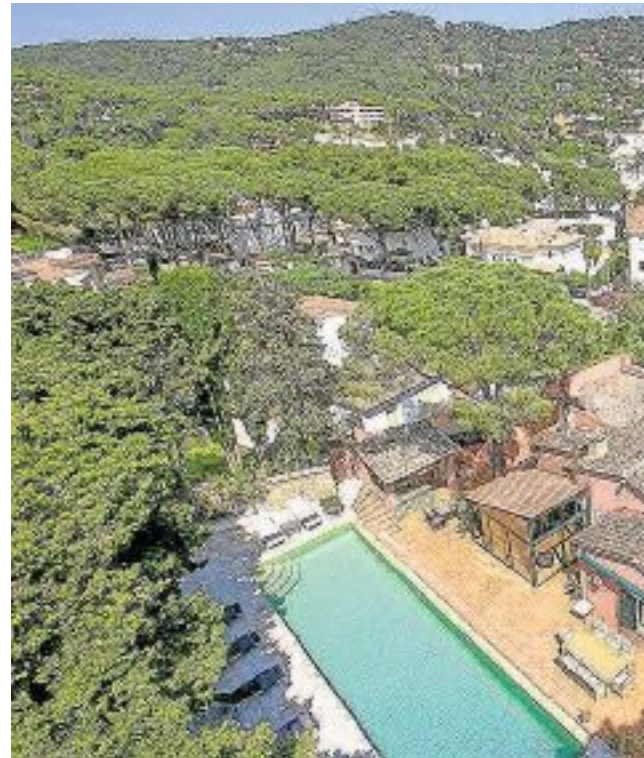

Our home for the week, however, was a property of a very different kind – and a rare find because of its proximity to the town and beach.

The Villa La Sardana is a gem because it's just 140 metres from the nearest restaurant, 250 metres from the beach and three minutes' walk from Llafranc town.

While villas are often isolated, this one is in the perfect spot, offering peace and tranquillity while just a few steps from the town centre and a gentle walk from the picturesque harbour.

It means that on occasions you can forget the car and stroll to the town, the bars and the restaurants so that if you want wine with dinner everyone can imbibe.

With five bedrooms and four bathrooms it's a villa which sleeps 10 – eight in the main house and

The medieval village of Pals

two in a cosy little annexe just a few steps away – and has so many seating areas both indoors and outdoors that members of even large parties can find privacy when they want to.

Best of all, it has one of the largest swimming pools I have seen at any villa, measuring more than 15 metres long by four metres wide. There are Roman steps into the water for easy access and a variation in depth so it's suitable for children and adults.

Warm and inviting with elegant Spanish décor, it also boasts large gardens – with a brick-built covered barbecue, of course – to stroll around when the sun gets too hot. There's even free wi-fi to keep the teenagers happy.

Away from Llafranc there are bays and villages galore to explore. Even though we were on the edge of the town we decided to hire a car after a Jet2 flight into Girona Airport to give us chance to see the best of the region.

It's best to check out the car hire prices carefully because there can be a sting in the tail if you want fully comprehensive insurance. You can book a car for a bargain £25 per week, but when you arrive at the airport the full insurance can cost you around £250.

After a lot of checking we opted for Sixt, a well-established company whose website tells you upfront exactly what you pay for the hire, as well as how much the full insurance is – in our case just 12 euros per day.

The company's base is just 200 yards from the airport arrivals hall and when we collected our car they even programmed in our villa destination to ensure we didn't get lost.

The flexibility of having a car gave us chance to visit some of the spectacular medieval inland villages of this region, like Pals and Peratallada.

And while most of the ancient buildings in both can only be admired from the outside, it's fascinating to walk around the narrow shaded streets, some of which have deep ruts cut in the stone surface by generations of carts passing over them.

During a week's holiday we only scratched the surface of what's in this area. One thing is for sure. It won't be another 25 years before we are back.

CHARITY

Fundraisers in epic cycle ride to Holland

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc9CN

A GROUP of bikers have conquered a gruelling 175-mile bike ride from Haverhill to Holland, smashing their fundraising target.

Vicky Le Fanu, Sam Griffiths, Alex Ward and Tom Offord work at pet healthcare manufacturer Beaphar in Haverhill and took part in the mammoth challenge to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

The team were joined by six more Beaphar colleagues from across the country, and they all set off from Haverhill in a bid to raise £5,000. They have now smashed their original target, raising more than £11,500 for the charity.

For the last 56 miles of the journey the team were supported by 12 of their Dutch colleagues as they rolled into the company's headquarters in Raalte, Holland.

Sue Huggett, Beaphar business manager, said: "The support we have received has been overwhelming and it has kept the team motivated during their training. Every year we support a charity, and this year was no exception.

"We have a very committed team at Beaphar, and they wanted to take on a team challenge which would raise funds to make a difference to other people's lives. We are very proud of their efforts, and it's a huge well done for raising such a fantastic amount and for all 10 employees completing this tough challenge."

The ride was originally put together to celebrate the company's 75th anniversary.

Before setting off on the mammoth journey, the daring group was seen off with a few words from Heidi Connell, the firm's fundraising manager for East Anglia.

She said: "It was a privilege to be able to come and send you off at the weekend and seeing you all bike out of the HQ with the 175 miles in front of you made me realise the challenge that you really had set yourselves."

"You have made such a difference with the money you have raised for Cancer Research UK and we are very grateful to you all for your support, ambition and fundraising efforts."

Blooming colourful contest

THERE'LL be a massive burst of colour and fragrance at the Arts Centre tomorrow and Saturday with the return of The Haverhill and District Flower Club's annual Floral Art Competition, which is open to the public from 1.30pm-5.30pm on Friday and 9.30am-4pm on Saturday. Follow the clouds of bees and the butterflies if you need help to find the way.

On the family event front, we have Little Red Robin Hood on Thursday, August 17 at 2.30pm. It's a merry mash-up of legend and fairy-tale involving puppets, songs and a wacky old wolf (who's not too scary). When Little Red Riding Hood cannot be found Robin Hood steps into the breach and agrees to take Grandma her cakes and flowers. Will he stay on the path or will he discover the wolf (who looks a bit like the Sheriff of Nottingham)? Garlic Theatre presents a funny, slapstick, glove puppet show with beautifully crafted puppets, clowning and gentle humour.

On Friday, August 25, we have The Hairly

Maclary and Friends Show at 1.30pm and 4pm. The scruffy black dog and his friends, the dachshund Schnitzel von Krumm, the dalmatian Bottomley Potts, and the old English sheepdog Muffin McClay go on many an adventure: it sounds a bit like the Famous Five but with lashings of bones rather than ginger beer. The books by Lynley Dodd provide the inspiration and the tom-cat Scar-Face Claw provides the element of danger.

If you are a fan of little yellow tic-tacs that wear dungarees and the dastardly doings of supervillains then there is only one film for you this week and that film is Despicable Me 3 (Monday, August 14, at 10.30am, Tuesday, August 15, at 2.30pm). If, on the other hand, you're a fan of brooding romance in a Cornish setting, your film this week can be none other than My Cousin Rachel (Monday, August 14 at 1.30pm), an adaptation of Daphne DuMaurier's novel starring Rachel Weisz as the enigmatic heroine. If, on the third hand, you are a fan of kooky, twinkly rom-coms then Hampstead (Tuesday, August 15), starring Diane Keaton and Brendan Gleeson is the puppy for you.

Things may be quieter than normal at the Arts Centre at this time of year, but the town council is holding a number of events around town: on Wednesday, August 16, from 11am to 3pm, the Leiston Community Centre hosts the Clements Fun Day. There'll be plenty of free, fun activities for everyone to enjoy. On Saturday, August 19, the performers at the Tribute Night storming the stage will be Little Mixture (A Little Mix tribute), Swinging with the Stars (popular swing/big band music) and A Night at the Movies (all the best songs from all the films including Mamma Mia and Dirty Dancing).

The story of the Red Barn Murder is famous round these parts and at the time – 1827 – it caused a national sensation. The main protagonist was the Polstead playboy William Corder who lured his part-time lover, Maria Marten, to a grisly end. Come and find out more with Suffolk Record Office's mini-travelling exhibition which will be visiting the Arts Centre between Monday, August 14 and Saturday, August 19.

Events coming soon are the broadcasts of Titus Andronicus (Wednesday, August 30, 7pm), and Yerma (Thursday, August 31) by The Royal Shakespeare Company and the National Theatre respectively; Live/Wire – The AC/DC Show, Wrong Stewart and the Farces and The Searchers.

- Friday, August 11, 1.30pm-5.30pm – Haverhill and District Flower Club's Floral Art Competition

POWERFUL: 400bhp Audi Sport RS 3

Audi Sport RS 3 is 400bhp powerhouse

AUDI Sport, the high-performance subsidiary of the German car maker, is about to release new versions of the RS 3 in Sportback and saloon body styles, fitted with 400bhp engines – a new standard in the compact car segment.

Both are now available to order, the Sportback priced from £44,300 and the saloon from £45,250.

Under the bonnet is the most powerful five-cylinder engine to be used in a series production Audi, providing a 0-62mph acceleration time of 4.1 seconds and a possible 174mph top speed.

Power comes from a new, lighter 2.5-litre turbo TFSI engine, which serves up 480 Nm of torque alongside its 400bhp output, and makes all of it available at between 1,700 and 5,850rpm.

Gearing is via a seven-speed S tronic dual-clutch transmission, which channels the power to the car's quattro permanent all-wheel drive system.

Shock breakdowns rise – from potholes

POTHOLE-RELATED breakdowns soared by almost a third between April and June compared with the same period last year, new figures show – and the lack of cash to fill them in means that the situation is only likely to get worse, according to the RAC.

Some 3,565 owners of vehicles with broken suspension springs, damaged shock absorbers or distorted wheels – issues largely attributable to poor road surfaces – called the RAC in the second quarter of the year.

This is compared with just 2,725 over the same period in 2016.

The firm's pothole index, based on a 12-month rolling average of breakdown numbers, indicates that road quality is getting worse after five successive quarters of improvement.

RAC chief engineer David Bizley warned the figures demonstrated how a spell of extreme weather could result in road surfaces dramatically deteriorating even further.

He said: "After a period of steady improvement, it is disappointing to see an unwelcome rise in the number of pothole-related breakdowns.

"The most worrying aspect, however, is the fact that this year's weather has been so much milder and drier than in the equivalent six months last year and, for this reason, we should have expected the numbers for the second quarter to be lower.

"We fear it would only take a spell of very cold or wet weather for the improvements of the last year or two to evaporate and for the nation to find itself in a situation when we would once again be seeking emergency funding from Government to address the worst affected roads."

The annual road maintenance survey of the Asphalt Industry Alliance found that local authorities in England and Wales needed more than £12 billion of funding to bring the road network up to scratch.

This is several times more than councils' entire annual revenue spending on highways and transport, which was £4.4 billion in England last year.

Martin Tett, the Local Government Association's transport spokesman, said: "Handing councils just two pence per litre from existing fuel duty to spend fixing our local roads would lead to an investment of £1 billion a year into vital repairs and maintenance."

Citroen prices the C3 Aircross

FIRST DRIVE

Renault Captur

In order to keep up with a fast-moving car market and its own siblings from the Renault stable, the Captur compact crossover has been treated to an impressive makeover.

The new car features a bold assertive look which brings it into line with its crossover stablemates the Kadjar and the new Koleos.

In the seemingly never-ending race to pump pocket premium features into cars of this size, the reinvigorated Captur features a more luxurious and refined interior.

In is a new, top-of-the-range Signature S Nav version and a more connected, R-LINK sat-nav and communications system is now compatible with Android Auto.

Refreshed equipment includes front and side parking sensors, blind spot warning, hands-free parking and a fixed-glass panoramic sunroof.

Five trim levels are offered across a 20-strong

IAN JOHNSON

line-up with four engines.

These are: TCe 90 and TCe 120 petrols, plus dCi 90 and dCi 110 diesels which offer CO2 emissions as low as 95g/km with fuel economy of up to 78.5mpg.

Innovative touches (according to version) include dual-height boot floor with reversible section, washable and removable seat covers and a sliding 60/40 rear bench seat.

More than 30 potential combinations enable the appearance of the new Captur to be tailored to match personal taste. Exterior customisation packs are available with a choice of six colours: ivory, blue, brown, red, chrome and orange. These are complemented by seven different interior packs.

The new Captur is the latest expression of Renault's long-established success in small car design – a stylish, contemporary urban crossover that brings chic looks, versatility, a fun-to-drive character and no-nonsense practicality to one of the fastest-growing areas of the new car market.

The car delivers a blend of the character and ruggedness of an SUV, the space and practicality of an MPV and the dynamics and driving refinement of a family hatchback. The result is a compact, clever package that is fun to drive and live with and inexpensive to own and run.

The generously proportioned interior will accommodate five adults and carry loads of up to 1,235 litres. The Captur was Europe's best-selling compact SUV in 2016 with 215,679 vehicles sold and is priced from £15,615.

The new range tops out at £23,405 before options.

Extra safety kit for the Grandland X SUV

THE all-new Vauxhall Grandland X is setting standards for its safety systems, as the latest SUV from Vauxhall sees the launch of Driver Drowsiness Alert.

The Grandland X will make its premiere at the Frankfurt International Motor Show (IAA) from September 14-24, and will be at dealerships shortly after.

The Grandland X is adding to its already impressive portfolio of ultra-modern assistance features, which include Forward Collision Warning with Automatic Emergency Braking and pedestrian detection,

SUV UPDATE: The Grandland X is priced from £22,310

Advanced Park Assist and Automatic Cruise Control. The latest system – Driver Drowsiness Alert – adds another level of safety to the technology-packed Grandland X, bringing premium levels of safety to the SUV segment from £22,310.

The new Driver Drowsiness Alert on the Grandland X triggers an audio and visual warning if the vehicle veers unexpectedly, suggesting driver fatigue or inattention. A message will be displayed in the driver information cluster and an alert will be sounded. If the vehicle continues to show signs of driver drowsiness after three warnings, a second alert message will be displayed along with a louder signal.

SEAT:
Reaching out for a new name

SEAT selects names for its new large SUV

NINE names, from a total of 10,130, have been selected in the latest step of the #SEATseekingName initiative to name the brand's future third SUV, which will go on sale in 2018.

The shortlisted place names, all taken from Spanish geography, in the running to become one of the finalists in September are: Abrera; Alboran; Aran; Aranda; Avila; Donosti; Tarifa; Tarraco and Teide.

Each semi-finalist proposal passed three different rounds defined by SEAT. Firstly names were selected to fit with the brand values and the characteristics of the new large SUV. Then there was a linguistic verification check and finally, and the legal validity of the names was verified internationally.

The brand will present the names of the finalists during a press conference on 12 September at the Frankfurt Motor Show. The name which receives the most votes will win.

Fastest lap high for Sims

ALEXANDER Sims set the fastest lap of the race in his class at the Continental Tire Road Race Showcase, the latest round of the IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship, at Road America, in Wisconsin, but ultimately had to settle for sixth place.

Sims' fastest lap in the GTLM class earned an extra championship point, putting him and co-driver Bill Auberlen in third place in the standings, nine points off the leading duo.

There are three races remaining for the West Wrating driver and Auberlen in their BMW Team RLL BMW M6 so there is all to play for.

Sims is back in action at the Michelin GT Challenge in Virginia on August 27.

Liam crowned champion

HAVERHILL'S Men's Club Championship, played over 36 holes, was contested by 37 golfers.

The winner of the gross prize, and 2017's club champion, was Liam Merritt with superb rounds of 71+70=141, eight shots clear of his next rival.

Second was Andy Fish (76+73=149) on countback, and third Jim Darby (71+78=149). The winner of the Spencer Tatum Cup in the 10-18 handicap section was Scott Turner with gross scores of 76+82=158.

On Junior Captain's Day, which took place on August 1, Ewan Groves won the medal competition with a nett 71, just ahead of James Iron, nett 73, while Fiona Stokes was third on nett 78.

In the stableford section, Archie Chapman came out on top with 29 points, beating Finley Rose on 25 and Lara Hopewell-Plant on 24.

In the Men's Midweek Medal, played on August 2, Andy Fish was the overall winner, carding an excellent nett 68.

Golf

Results, Division One: 1st Andy Fish (72-4=68), 2nd Martin Mansfield (84-12=72), 3rd Alan Carter (85-11=74).

Division Two: 1st Jonathan Wiseman (84-15=69), 2nd Stuart Haworth (87-18=69), 3rd John Levey (89-19=70).

Division Three: 1st Richard Sisman (91-22=69), 2nd Dave Hedley (95-23=72), 3rd Patrick Bowes (97-24=73).

Haverhill Ladies also held their Midweek Medal on August 2. In first place was Sally Price on nett 72, followed by Mandy Williamson on nett 73. Linda Alexander was third on nett 74.

Haverhill hosted its Men's Senior Open on August 3 with an impressive field of 120 players.

The format was four-ball better-ball stableford, playing off 9/10ths handicap.

The winning pair was W Elder and T Cocksedge on countback with 43 points. Second place was W Steen and K Otter (43 points), while third place went to C Briggs and P White (41 points).

Dellar hails 'real team effort' win

ADAM Dellar returned with a half-century as Haverhill picked up a vital win at Mistley in their Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One relegation battle.

The captain was back in the team and made exactly 50 in an opening partnership worth 64 alongside Anthony Phillips (20).

Steve Fox added 40 in another good stand involving the skipper, before Chris Palmer's unbeaten 28 in the closing stages got the visitors up to 174 for 5.

Harry Harding (2 for 25) and Will Bailey (3 for 37) then bowled well as Mistley came up just short on 164 for 9.

"It was good to be back and involved in this much-needed win," said Dellar, whose second-from-bottom side are now only 10 points behind Saturday's opponents.

"It keeps us well in touch with the teams immediately ahead of us and gives us plenty to play for over the last six weeks of the season."

"The top order all did well in contributing to a decent total and the bowlers all played their part. It was a real team effort."

In Division Three, Haverhill II triumphed by 17 runs when they entertained Tuddenham.

Sam Street mustered 52 and there were also contributions from Jamie Boulton (29) and debutant Mark Barrell (30) to get the hosts to 169 for 9.

Tuddenham came up short on 152 for 6 in their chase.

Rovers and Borough march on in FA Cup

HAVERHILL's two senior clubs both progressed in the FA Cup following extra-preliminary-round wins on Saturday.

Rovers came from behind to win at Hoddesdon 2-1, while Borough beat Enfield 1893 by the same scoreline.

At Hoddesdon, the home side took the lead in the first minute following a free kick, but Rovers responded well and began to get into the game.

Hoddesdon were reduced to 10 men when they had a player sent off for raising his hands to Rovers forward Russell Wozniak.

Football

But the visitors struggled to break down the 10 men and it was not until the 65th minute that they finally equalised.

Wozniak had a shot saved and, as the ball looped into the air, Jordan Palmer was on hand to bundle it over the line.

Hoddesdon won a penalty straight after the restart for a foul by Rovers keeper Charlie Turner, but the shot-stopper redeemed himself by saving the spot kick.

The save spurred Rovers on, and in the 83rd minute Ben Bradley tapped home after the Hoddesdon keeper spilled Palmer's shot.

Then on Tuesday, Rovers boss Ben Cowling saw his side open their Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division campaign with a home win over Long Melford, 3-1.

The scorers were Cameron Watson, Jonathan Milne and Luke Haines.

Away to Enfield 1893 in the cup, Borough looked the stronger team throughout the contest and took the lead inside the opening 20 minutes through Ryan Swallow. Ryan Weaver made it 2-0 midway through the second half but a goal from Enfield with 20 minutes remaining set up a thrilling finale.

Borough fought a strong rearguard action in the dying moments, just doing enough to hold on to an important win.

Manager Anthony Choat's men faced another big test on Tuesday night away to Saffron Walden Town in their first Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division match of the season, finally losing, 2-1.
